Ducks and Wheat
Our Best Flier

Gas Merchants, Attention

By Arthur Brisbane

IN THE OLD DAYS of oppression a discouraged Irishman, sitting beside a little pond of water, with a few ducks swimming around in it, was asked by a British efficiency expert, "Have you any idea of the price you could get in London for those fine ducks?"

"I have," replied the owner of the ducks. "And have you any idea of the price I could get for that water in Hell, if I had it there?"

News of the drought sends the price of wheat climbing upward. It rose 3/4 cents more early yesterday. When the farmer hasn't got it there, wheat is high in Chicago.

Captain Hawks, probably our ablest aviator, a product of the all-year-round flying field of San Diego, Cal., arrived at Columbus, O., at 7:45 yesterday morning, two hours and 45 minutes after leaving New York. Six minutes after landing in Columbus Hawks started for St. Louis.

At 2:45 p.m. yesterday Hawks had reached and left St. Louis for Wichita, Kan., with a good prospect of lowering the 15-hour record that he had set for himself.

Making nearly 200 miles an hour, Hawks beat the East to West record of Roscoe Turner by nearly four hours.

Leaving New York yesterday a. m., he was in Los Angeles 14 hours, 50 minutes, 43 seconds later.

That is flying.

On "Continental United States" the population is 122,728,837. Uncle Sam says so. This does not include Alaska, the Philippines or Hawaii. In 10 years population has increased 13.1 per cent. If that increase continues, our population in 10 years will be 140,000,000.

Labor union leaders realize that will say, "I have not seen a job for so many." Workers said that 180 years ago, when our population was 2,000,000.

Farmers would not grow the idea 546,095,925 population with gas existing. That would give us people to eat and sell our wheat and pay a good price for it.

However, big figures need not frighten us. The world's population, apart from famine, plague and war, will not outgrow the earth's fertility.

People, as they become more civilized and have greater luxuries, have fewer children.

And the old German proverb says truly "The Lord sees to it that the trees do not grow in the heavens."

Finally, no matter how many babies are born and how much the death rate diminishes, science will keep ahead of population.

Intensively cultivated, Kansas alone could feed three times the 546,095,925.

And the 546,095,925 could all find comfortable, beautiful residence with the aid of the flying machines, on hilltops, now neglected and empty.

Important to everybody, especially those that sell gasoline, is news of a trial rule road car run by a new electric battery, developing a speed of 40 miles an hour, and using only two-thirds of the battery power.

An Irishman invents a new battery. The five State finances it.

That Irishman, with the invention, would have waited a long time before any part of this government would have financed him, even if he had been Fulton and Edison rolled into one.

If electricity could be economically stored, on a big scale in light batteries, something would happen to the stocks that depend on the demand for gasoline.

News from India causes Mohammedans continue fighting and killing Hindus. 17 killed, injured, in the latest clash based on revenge.

For a wonder the worm had turned, and a Hindu, son of a race ordinarily mild, shot and killed a Mohammedan and wounded 4.

That's like a sheep biting a wolf.

Such incidents take the Hindu mind into the grievances against Great Britain.

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—Two city sanitation employees were dismissed, another fined 30 days' pay and two more exonerated at a trial today following discovery of $100,000 worth of liquor on a city garbage scow.

Economic Justice to All Is Nation's Duty, Curley Says

This is the second article on "Wages and Jobs," written by Mayor James M. Curley. Another will appear in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.

By James M. Curley

IT IS ADMITTED that happiness in the home is essential to patriotism in the land, and it is further admitted that there can be no happiness in the home or patriotism in the land without economic stability.

The indications are that the population, by the agricultural portion of the population, is suffering.

News from India causes Mohammedans continue fighting and killing Hindus. 17 killed, injured, in the latest clash based on revenge.

CURLEY VETES SOUND SPEAKER ORDINANCE

Declares Ban Proposed by the City Council Too Draconic and Penalty Excessive

Mayor James M. Curley today vetoed the ordinance passed by the City Council barring the use of noisy radio loud speakers between the hours of 11 p. m. and 7 a. m.

In returning the ordinance to the council, the mayor characterized it as most drastic, and said he believed the penalty proposed was excessive.

Mayor Curley said he was heartily in favor, however, of some regulation of machines for reducing sound as used by business concerns.

"No man in political life ever has been subject to more unjust and unwarranted attacks,"

Huston presented his resignation to a meeting of the party's executive committee and made public his statement before the meeting was over and his successor chosen. He said also:

"My withdrawal will give the organization an opportunity of selecting a leader free from the present federal opposition and will permit me, without embarrassing others, to pursue a course that will insure in the minds of the Republicans of the country my right to their continued esteem and confidence."

Direction of the Fall campaign was turned over to Senator Fess of Ohio and Robert H. Lucas of Kentucky. Fess, a staunch administration supporter, was appointed provisional chairman to serve until fall when a permanent chairman will be selected.

Lucas present commissioner of internal revenue, was named executive chairman. He will resign his present post soon to devote his entire time to the new job.

Fess and Lucas were present at the meeting and spoke briefly. George Keim, Edgewater Park, N. J., retired banker, was appointed secretary to succeed Representative Franklin Ford, New Jersey, resigned.

Other vacancies filled are: Secretary of the Navy, national committee from Louisiana, to succeed the late Emilio Kuntz, and Ben R. Whittle, Chief of Police, national committee from Idaho, in place of Senator Thomas, resigned.

OPEN HALLS FOR TERCENTENARY

The memorial halls in the Old State House will be kept open on Saturday afternoons for Tercentenary visitors for the remainder of the year.

Bostonian Society, which has the rooms in the historic old building, today acceded to Mayor Curley's request, heartily endorsed by the Boston Evening American, that the halls remain open as a courtesy to the city's Tercentenary guests.

Hundreds of visitors, for whom Saturday afternoon was a most convenient time, had found the rooms closed.

Charles F. Read, clerk and treasurer of the society, wrote the mayor that his organization would gladly comply with the request.

To a similar request made of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company with regard to its headquarters in Faneuil Hall, Mayor Curley has received no answer.

2000 MEN GAINING HARD BATTLE

After a desperate battle today with the Cape Cod forest fire, whipped into new fury at several points by a northeast wind, firemen and 2,000 volunteers appeared to have the flames under control.

Approximately 24,000 acres have been laid waste and damage estimated at between $350,000 and $500,000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE BOY PRODIGY, 14, WILL ENTER HARVARD THIS FALL

PASSES HIS EXAMS WITH HONORS

Has Studied in Germany and France; Plays the Violin and the Trumpet

Derry, N. H., will furnish a boy prodigy to the fall opening of Harvard. It was learned today, with the announcement that Albert Otto Seeler, at the tender age of 14, will enter the Cambridge institution.

Albert is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Felix Seeler, the former a chemist with a diploma from Leipzig, Germany.

His mother, the former Clara B. Cornell, was a graduate of Radcliffe College.

Born on Christmas Day, 1915, young Albert was educated in the public schools of Derry and entered Pinkerton Academy in that town.

He was graduated from the public school at the age of 13 and from Pinkerton last June. In the same month he passed the college board examinations and was elected with honors in the German language.

The boy already has made two trips to Europe, one during the summer of 1927 and another two years later, when he spent several seasons at a Paris school and a school in Leipzig.

At an early age the boy became proficient in music, playing the violin under Rudolph Schiller of Manchester, N. H., and the trumpet with Frederic Richter of the same city.

While at Pinkerton Academy he was a member of the academy orchestra, the critic staff and the Pinkerton Society.

In addition to his achievements as a scholar, Albert has gained esteem as a swimmer and on the tennis courts.

DRAPER FILES AS WIFE TALKS

While his wife, in a radio address, was bitterly assailing prohibition, bootleggers and dishonest law enforcement officers, Eben S. Draper today filed his Republican nomination papers for U. S. Senator.

He filed 100 signatures, announced he had $50,000 and expected to have $50,000 by next Tuesday.

"I am confident of winning the nomination," he said at the office of State Secretary Frederic W. Cook, after filing. All his signatures, he said, had been obtained by voluntary workers.

Mrs. Draper, in her address, charged bootleggers and dishonest officials were growing wealthy while honest citizens were being penalized.

"I have been warned," Mrs. Draper said, "that the question of prohibition should be submerged or evaded in this campaign, such a course, to anyone in principle, is hypocritical and does not discuss prohibition? There is no subject in which I am so vitally interested today or which has such far-reaching consequences, as prohibition and the conditions which have grown up under it during 10 years of experience."

"My husband believes that the 18th amendment should be repealed. Instead of promoting temperance, prohibition has increased drunkenness and has made alcoholic drinks available to young and growing boys and girls to a degree never before witnessed in the history of the country."

Asks Allen to Help Defeat Better Transit

The aid of Gov. Allen in obtaining better exchange service between the Boston and Portland lines of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway was sought today by Rep. D. Mullen of Charlestown.

In a letter to the Governor Mullen pointed out that the $100,000 taken out by the Elevated could be accepted by the Eastern in the district, thus improving service, encouraging riding and eliminating much of the present traffic congestion at City Square.

Rep. Smith Saves Drowning Man

Representative Thomas Smith, Jr. of Fall River, with the help of two men last night saved William Baquell, 37, of Fall River, from drowning. Baquell was swimming at Brayton's Point when he collapsed in the water.

Representative Smith with the aid of Walter Macdonald and Norman Audette, both of Fall River, brought him safely to shore.

C. W. Chamberlain, Sportsman, Is Dead

DEAD, 2 DYING IN BEACH FIRE

Matapoisett, Aug. 7.—Alexander Borrow, 45, was burned to death and his son, George, 30, and daughter, Mrs. Muriel Wright, are dying from the flames.

When firemen arrived they found George Borrow and Mrs. Wright lying on the ground, their clothing in flames and the children standing nearby, motionless.

The father apparently was trapped by the flames. It was not until after the fire had been extinguished that his body was found.

George Borrow and the sister, Mrs. Wright, received their burns when they rushed through their flame-filled house to the bedroom of Mrs. Wright's two children and carried them to safety.

POPE MOVES TO COMBAT FOES OF FAITH

Issues Statement as Result of Protestant Activities "in and Around Rome"

Vatican City, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Pope, in a personal statement, published in the Osservatore Romano today, announced the formation of a "Pontifical organization for preservation of the faith and for the provision of new churches in Rome," designed to combat Protestant proselyting in and around Rome.

The announcement in "Moto Proprio"—that is, a document made by the Pontiff himself—recalls his protest against Protestant activities in an allocation at a secret consistory held on June 30.

The new "defense organization" will have a cardinal for its president, who will maintain continuous contact with Cardinal Pacelli, vicar-general of the diocese of Rome, to keep him informed and exchange useful ideas.

The new organization will be divided into two sections, one for "Preservation of the faith, in addition to the organization now devoted to that work and bearing that name instituted by Pope Leo XIII, which will extend its operations."

The second section will be devoted to providing more churches in Rome, regrouping parishes, demolishing old and unsuitable church edifices, and the question of dealing with the civil authorities for necessary authorization.

Scenes at Plymouth and Long Pond Where Fires Still Rage

THE CHAIN OF FLAME which menaced the town of Plymouth, on Cape Cod, can be seen in this picture, taken from Bourne Bridge over the Cape Cod Canal. These houses in the foreground are in Bourne.

North and South Carver, endangering dwellings on the outskirts of these places.

PRISONERS ARE FIGHTING FIRE

At that time smaller fires were being fought desperately at several places to keep them from gaining headway. Large crews of volunteers were being kept in readiness at strategic points, and will be kept mobilized throughout the night.

A hard fight by an emergency crew of 35 men saved Long Pond village in Bourne, from being consumed by the flames that, believed to have started in a barn, spread south of Plymouth.

Not less than 30,000 acres, chiefly of scrub pine, have been burned over by the fire south of the canal, according to State Fire Warden Maxwell C. Hutchins.

TALL PINES BLAZING

Beneath dense clouds of black and yellow smoke, plumed by tongues of vivid flame, more than 500 men ranged themselves in a semicircle facing the fire denoted south of the canal, where the flames crossed from Bourne into the southern tip of Sandwich and then into Matapoisett.

Several times during the forenoon the wind calmed and weary men breathed easier, flinging themselves on the ground to rest, but each time the wind freshened, until it settled into a strong, steady blow from the northwest.

Tall pines in this area were blazing in places where the fire was blowing from the north.

The wind swept a long finger of fire at an angle toward the Cape County Sanatorium at Chatham and a specially picked force of trained firemen hurried out again for its protection.

Men who had fought the fire until nearly dawn were again called upon to battle the flames in the Carver.

These men, directed by forest wardens, had apparently won victory over the flames in the Plymouth area during the night. But their triumph was erased when the driving flames spurted out again near Jessup's bog.

LEADS TO CLEAR POND

From that point the fire leaped toward Cedar Pond, two miles distant, and while efforts were being concentrated on saving Long Pond village, volunteers were being led out to meet the fire face to face.

The Carver fire was apparently an offshoot of the one ignited by the burning brands carried several miles by the wind.

Wardens feared fires as the wind blew over the town from the direction of Plymouth.

While it was considerably cooler than yesterday, there was no relief from the heat along the fire lines.

Twenty-five or more cottages have been destroyed and half a dozen camps wiped out, according to estimates of fire wardens.

The traffic situation is becoming serious, according to state officials, and motorists bent merely on sightseeing in the fire region are asked to postpone their excursions until the week-end, when all danger will probably be over.

GIRL GIVES ALARM

The state forest at Sandwich was saved from destruction when Miss Lois Kerr, daughter of a farmer, saw two lines of backfire from Snake pond in Bourne, fire under the direction of Fire Warden Lincoln Crowell, and cleared a stretch 100 feet wide for the entire distance.

The story of the wild dash of a New York girl through the flames and smoke that accounted for the saving of the White Island pond section was revealed today.

Miss Lois Kerr, daughter of a New York writer, was the heroine, and while efforts were being concentrated on saving Long Pond village, volunteers were being led out to meet the fire face to face.

The Carver fire was apparently an offshoot of the one ignited by the burning brands carried several miles by the wind.

Wardens feared fires as the wind blew over the town from the direction of Plymouth.

While it was considerably cooler than yesterday, there was no relief from the heat along the fire lines.

Twenty-five or more cottages have been destroyed and half a dozen camps wiped out, according to estimates of fire wardens.

The traffic situation is becoming serious, according to state officials, and motorists bent merely on sightseeing in the fire region are asked to postpone their excursions until the week-end, when all danger will probably be over.

GIRL GIVES ALARM

The state forest at Sandwich was saved from destruction when Miss Lois Kerr, daughter of a farmer, saw two lines of backfire from Snake pond in Bourne, fire under the direction of Fire Warden Lincoln Crowell, and cleared a stretch 100 feet wide for the entire distance.

The story of the wild dash of a New York girl through the flames and smoke that accounted for the saving of the White Island pond section was revealed today.

Miss Lois Kerr, daughter of a New York writer, was the heroine, and while efforts were being concentrated on saving Long Pond village, volunteers were being led out to meet the fire face to face.

Williamstown, Aug. 7 (AP)—The United States will go to the next anti-sub conference in 1935 with less influence than it ever had in such a gathering. If it accedes to the movement on foot, it will underhandly tone down the London treaty, Rear Admiral Arthur J. Heppner said today.

Admiral Heppner, chief of staff of the United States fleet and member of the American delegation at the London Conference, addressed the limitation of armament conference at the Institute of Politics.

Asserting the nations of the world do not "see eye to eye" with the United States, being unable to understand our "blindness" to the infant League of Nations on the European continent, Heppner responded to the appeal for national security and the American attitude on other world questions, Heppner said.

Cleveland, Aug. 7 (AP)—Bert A. CLUBMAN

Taunton, Aug. 7 (AP)—John W. Morse, 31, of Owen ave., Pawtucket, R. I., was arrested in court here today, charged with negligent driving as a result of a collision in Boston's last night in which Hainbridge Percy L. Clark, New York and Newport clubman, was killed and Mrs. Clark critically hurt.

Morse pleaded not guilty.

At request of State Motor Vehicle Inspector Richard E. O'Connor, Judge William J. Davison continued Morse's case until August 14.

The Clarks were traveling from Providence to Newport in a car operated by their chauffeur, Francis Moroney, Newport, when the crash occurred. Clark died soon after the accident. His wife sustained a fracture of the skull.

HAPPINESS IN HOME VITAL TO U. S. PROSPERITY SAYS CURLEY

the great mass of unorganized workers in America.

The Federal Reserve Board, created under the administration of the late President Woodrow Wilson, was opposed by the banking interests of the United States when the project was first presented. Today there is not a single banker in America who is not in favor of the Federal Reserve Board, which operates to protect the United States banking industry and which, during the period of the World War, was found absolutely essential for the financing of the war. For the protection of business from unjust competition and unfair conditions the Federal Trade Commission was organized. For the stabilizing of United States traffic the Interstate Commerce Commission was created. These three agencies were created to aid trade, transportation and commerce, and have been so valuable that every thoughtful American is favorable to their continuance.

For Workers Commission Needed

It has, within the past year, been deemed advisable to conduct, through the agency of the Federal Industrial Commission, an investigation with a view to improving conditions in the basic industries of the nation—steel, coal, and more recently oil and agriculture.

A federal commission should be organized now for the protection of the workers of America. During the period of the World War America was required to furnish the necessities, not only for the American nation, but for our allies. During those trying days we became familiar with the words "economy," "efficiency" and "speeding up." The inventive genius of the American people manifested itself in the field of invention with device of every character, the main purpose of which was to reduce costs through the elimination of the worker by the introduction of automatic devices. The close of the war found America with an area given over to agriculture greater than ever previously known in the history of the country. It found America, notwithstanding a reduction in the farm population during the past 10 years of 3,000,000, yet still able to produce cereals in such volume that scarcely a bushel of the 1929 wheat crop has been consumed up to the present time. Automatic machines in the State of Kansas in 1929 threshed out and binded one-half of the 300,000,000 bushels of wheat raised in that great wheat State. The question to be seriously considered at the present hour is what steps should be taken for the utilization of automatic machinery and inventive devices, and at the same time protect the American worker, who in the last analysis can provide for their families only through continuity of employment at a saving wage.

Machine Age Dangers to Workers

Inventive genius as represented by automatic machinery should by governmental control be made to promote the happiness and prosperity of the workers of the nation, rather than be utilized for the destruction of opportunity for Mayor Warns of Dole Alternative for U.S.

THE panacea for the ills confronting the worker at the present time is beyond the power of any single individual to even venture a remedy. Nevertheless, I beg to suggest the advisability of giving serious thought to the enlargement of opportunities for continuity in employment at a saving wage to the workers of America. Substantially every large American industry today has a plant or plants operating in the principal European centers, with many in Canada and South America; so that the dumping of excess production of America in the future presents but limited possibilities.

The choice presented to America is either a limitation upon the hours of operation of manufacturing plants, or the adoption of the so-called European "dole system."—From second of Mayor Curley's articles on "Wages and Jobs."

a livelihood. It is admitted that working at capacity productivity of America is such that the entire requirements of the nation for a full 12 months' period are possible of production in seven months. Unless checked the present system means unemployment for large numbers of American people for a period of five months or more each. This period of unemployment necessarily must result in a reduction of the purchasing power of the American people with consequent instability of industry and long periods of depression with enormous expenditures for public aid, either in the form of the "dole system," in operation in Great Britain, or the soup kitchens, happily a dim memory in recent years in the life of America.

Revolution Industrial Changes

The per capita increase in the output of industry during the past 10 years may properly be characterized as an industrial revolution, a war in which the workers alone with their families were ground under the wheels of so-called progress. During the period from 1920 to 1927, the working population of the United States increased more than 11,000,000, yet during the past 10 years there has been a definite decline in the number of persons actually employed. There is much food for thought in the report of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, which estimates that within the past five years nearly 2,000,000 persons in manufacturing industries and employed by the railroads, street and steam, have suffered the loss of their employment.

An investigation conducted by the Committee on Education of the United States Senate disclosed the fact that in the loading of pig iron two men with automatic machinery performed the work which formerly required in its operation 128 men.

Jobs Gone Machines Out In

In the pig iron casting industry seven men now do the work which formerly required 60 men, and in the operation of the open hearth furnaces the work formerly requiring the services of 42 men is now performed by one man. In the manufacture of bricks one man working eight hours was able to make 450 bricks. Today a machine turns out in the same period of time, namely eight hours, 320,000 bricks.

The introduction of the dial system of telephone operation has resulted in a reduction of two-thirds of the number of telephone operators formerly found necessary for the conduct of a telephone exchange. Innovations in office machinery, bookkeeping, copying, counting and typing devices, have resulted in the discharge of high-salaried employees and their replacement by skilled operators, who in a single hour do the work that formerly required the services of an expert for a full period of eight hours.

The introduction of the steam shovel, the magnetic hoist and the conveyor system has resulted in the period of 10 years in the displacement of more than 1,000,000 men who heretofore performed the same work by hand labor.

The work which is now conducted through the operation of these automatic devices affects also in greater measure the steel and rolling mills. In steel and rolling mills the per capita increase in production in a period of 10 years has been 50 per cent. In shoe factories, 24 per cent; in leather tanning, 41 per cent; in cement, 54 per cent; in flour milling, 54 per cent; and in the manufacture of motor cars one man in an hour produced two and three-fourths times as much in 1927 as in 1914.

CURLEY PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

and in a tire factory nearly four times as much, while in the loading of ships a mechanical conveyor or spiral chute now in use enables four men today to do as much as 400 did formerly.

Many Suffer Thousands Affected

In 1909 the Cigar-makers' Union, whose members were engaged in manufacturing cigars by hand, numbered more than 50,000 members. Today automatic machinery performs with a few men what formerly required thousands.

Twenty years ago the window glass workers of the United States boasted a membership of 60,000. Today less than 1000 constitute the entire membership.

The introduction of the so-called talkie movie into theaters of America has added 40,000 musicians and a larger number of professional and semi-professional musicians to the vast army of the unemployed. A recent statement, as yet unchallenged, gives food for thought, namely, that there are but 20 theaters operating in America today, and half of this entire number may be found in the city of New York.

The panacea for the ills confronting the worker at the present time is beyond the power of any single individual to even venture a remedy. Nevertheless, I beg to suggest the advisability of giving serious thought to the enlargement of opportunities for continuity in employment at a saving wage to the workers of America. Substantially every large American industry today has a plant or plants operating in the principal European centers, with many in Canada and South America, so that the dumping of excess production of America in the future presents but limited possibilities.

The choice presented to America is either a limitation upon the hours of operation of manufacturing plants, or the adoption of the so-called European "sole system."

As between these two propositions no thoughtful American should hesitate. The progress and prosperity of this nation, which has in 1929 grown from 2,000,000 souls to 128,000,000, and from a nation weak in finance to the most powerful nation in the world, may be traced to the independent spirit, character and courage of the American worker, who prefers at all times a saving wage under which he and his family may enjoy some measure of contentment and prosperity rather than a pulsing system under which the spirit of independence and the character of the individual are undermined and eventually destroyed.

(The third article in Mr. Curley's series will appear in tomorrow's American.)

COAL MAGNATE DIES IN CRASH

Fortsmouth, N. H., Aug. 7 (AP)—Willau P. Hise of Huntington, W. Va., former Democratic candidate for United States senator in that state, was killed in an automobile crash here today. His wife, two children and chauffeur were injured.

THRIFTY WOMEN SEE VALUE OF CANNING FRUIT THIS SUMMER

Never Before Has Sugar Been So Low in Price and Fruit Is Plentiful

A glance at the overflowing fruit markets and then at the low price of sugar proves conclusively that 1930 is the year to put up fruit. Of course the more that is canned the bigger the financial gain, but even a few jars of preserves and glasses of jelly stored away will help cut food bills next winter.

Pickles and relishes made of cucumbers, tomatoes, cabbage and watermelon rind are also economical to put up. Their spicy, tangy goodness is most welcome when meats and fish are served.

Canned fruit has a place in the balanced diet. Most of them are rich in vitamins. For children, canned fruit is an ideal breakfast dish or a fitting dessert.

Beyond a doubt, the housewife who puts up plenty of fruit this summer will find that its consumption next winter will help keep her family well and save her money. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

DAILY FLIGHTS TO AUGUSTA ANNOUNCED

By GEORGE HAMBLIN

Having completed all arrangements on both ends of the line, Consolidated Airways, Inc., of Newburyport, today begins daily air service between Boston and Augusta, Me., according to an announcement made by James Dickha, general manager of the company. A preliminary trip was made several days ago, on which Mayor Cony of Augusta was brought to Boston to meet Mayor Curley. During the trip, the Wright Whirlwind motor of the Rinson cabin monoplane has been completely checked by West Coast Aircraft, and everything is in readiness for the start of the service this afternoon.

While only one trip each way is planned for the present, Dickha expects to increase the service before the first of September to two times a day between the two capital cities.

Leaving Boston municipal airport at 4:45 p. m., daily except Sunday, the ship will arrive at Augusta municipal airport at 8:30, and will remain there over night. Returning to Boston, the plane will fly off at 8:30, arriving at Boston in time to make connections with the 10:30 Colonial plane to New York.

While the ship to be used, at present, seats only three passengers and pilot, sufficient demand is expected by Dickha to warrant the purchase of an eight-passenger cabin in early next month. Several newspaper contracts are being lined up, and with this freight and passenger, the larger planes will be necessary.

Brookline Woman Heads Education Committee

By NANCY BREWSTER
Mrs. Frederick S. Fogg of Brookline, former president of the Women's Council of Boston, is the new chairman of the committee on education of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. She succeeds Mrs. C. A. Stockbridge of Maynard.

As the days roll along, with the fall resumption of club activities approaching, appointments of new chairmen are announced, daily, while the President's Council of the Federation continues to make deserving and active and brilliant women of the state to committee positions.

Mrs. Fogg will pursue an educational program, sponsored in part by the General Federation as representative of national educational plans, and by the State Federation with special focus on the legislative outcome of the Governor's recess committee.

Raising the school age is one of the programs clubwomen will support, the future as they have in the past.

A federal bureau of education with a seat in President Hoover's cabinet is another issue the General Federation solicits council for from the individual federations.

Mrs. Fogg was, for the past three years, a member of the Education Committee, which, for the next three years, she will direct and inspire. Her energies will also be devoted to securing a class of girls in the high schools of the state, another parent body issue.

Revere Companions of the Forest Plan Anniversary Dinner

Members of the Revere Circle of the national order, Companions of the Forest of America, under the chairmanship of their organizer, Mrs. Max Kaufman of Boston, are making elaborate plans for an anniversary banquet, September 14. Organized two years ago, its membership is now over 100.

Another banquet, October 6, is under way, plans for which are now absorbing the interests of the officers' association, C. O. F. O. A., a group tendered the three state leaders and grand financial secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Sawyer. Mrs. Max Kaufman, superintendent of the order, is chairman of the affair.

The order maintains an old age fund, and a hospital bed benefit fund for its members. Massachusetts contain 14,000 members while 20,000 women are members of the order throughout the country.

Mrs. Walter Woods

Heads Federation's Veteran Committee

Mrs. Walter Woods of Chestnut Hill, a prominent member of the Brookline Women's Club will head the Brookline Federation of Women's Clubs committee on cooperation with veterans.

Mrs. Paul A. Peters of West Roxbury, who held the chairmanship of the past nine years, has given over her good will and eternal love to the Chestnut Hill clubwomen. A legacy with which 15,000 Massachusetts women are concerned.

Mrs. Peters, however she went, preached the gospel of the war veteran, an official representative of the State Federation. Her retirement from office was not welcomed by the clubwomen. However, Mrs. Woods, a sympathetic admirer of the World War boys, will pick up the loose ends and "carry on".

General Federation Sponsors Campaign for Better Homes

The principal work of the Division of Home Economics Teaching in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. C. Gawler, Yankin, Wash., has been a survey of conditions under which home economics is taught, with the purpose of following it with a campaign for improvement.

Survey findings, reported by the chairman, reveal that less than 10 per cent of the eligible enrollees in educational institutions was taking home economics; that home economics was not adequately functioning in the home; that mothers were not co-operating fully that school executives had not the proper appreciation of the value of home economics courses; that there was not an equitable distribution of appropriation; that teaching training requirements were not always high; that the curriculum needed broadening; that college entrance examinations for the election of home economics and a number of other things as well.

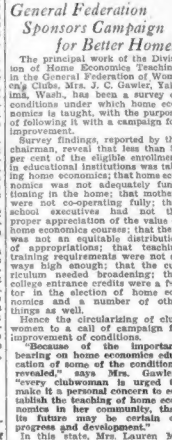

Hence the circulating of club women's report of the campaign for improvement of conditions.

"Because of the important bearing on home economics education of some of the clubwomen," said Mrs. Gawler, "every clubwoman is urged to make it a personal concern to establish the teaching of home economics in her community, that its future may be certain of progress."

In this state, Mrs. Laura McMurter, state chairman of the Department of American Home, will pursue the request to a successful conclusion with the resumption of club activities.

Dawes Plans New Hunt

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE
Universal Service Special Cable. London, Aug. 7.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to the Court of St. James, who is already known as a musical composer, will reveal himself as an amateur archaeologist when he leaves London about August 20 to join an expedition to France and Spain.

The expedition, conducted by Dr. George Grant MacGillivray of Yale University, is sponsored by the American Society of Prehistoric Research, and will investigate traces of neolithic man in the Dordogne district of France and particularly in the vicinity of the Lascaux caves.

The mines of Rio Tinto are still worked and have tunnels and slag heaps carrying back through all written history beyond Roman times, even to indications of neolithic man's painfully slow chip-chip with flint tools.

Ambassador Dawes revealed that he has been a keen student of the history of primitive man, and considers this the opportunity of a lifetime to get real confirmation of his theories.

Explaining the hopes of the expedition to uncover the laborious efforts of neolithic men, Ambassador Dawes drew out his desk and displayed a collection of most primitive flint cutting tools which he had acquired on his visit to Prime Minister MacDonald at Lonsmeath.

Dawes Plans New Hunt

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE
Universal Service Special Cable. London, Aug. 7.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to the Court of St. James, who is already known as a musical composer, will reveal himself as an amateur archaeologist when he leaves London about August 20 to join an expedition to France and Spain.

The expedition, conducted by Dr. George Grant MacGillivray of Yale University, is sponsored by the American Society of Prehistoric Research, and will investigate traces of neolithic man in the Dordogne district of France and particularly in the vicinity of the Lascaux caves.

The mines of Rio Tinto are still worked and have tunnels and slag heaps carrying back through all written history beyond Roman times, even to indications of neolithic man's painfully slow chip-chip with flint tools.

Ambassador Dawes revealed that he has been a keen student of the history of primitive man, and considers this the opportunity of a lifetime to get real confirmation of his theories.

Explaining the hopes of the expedition to uncover the laborious efforts of neolithic men, Ambassador Dawes drew out his desk and displayed a collection of most primitive flint cutting tools which he had acquired on his visit to Prime Minister MacDonald at Lonsmeath.

HAWKS LOWERS RECORD 3 HRS.

Los Angeles, Aug. 7 (AP)—Frank Hawks, Los Angeles aviator, today held the record for the quickest east-west crossing of the United States.

Flying at an average speed of 172 miles per hour, Hawks yesterday drove his low-winged monoplane from Curtiss Field, N. Y., to municipal airport, Los Angeles, in 16 hours 50 minutes and 43 seconds. It was the first time a transcontinental flight had been made in full daylight.

Hawks lowered by 1 hour and 42 minutes the record made yesterday by Edwin Turner. Turner made his trip in 18 hours 32 minutes.

Hawks encountered stormy weather during most of the 2600 miles.

Today, he also made a record of the "fastest" trip, with that record of 18 hours 32 minutes.

HEARST STOCK BOUGHT BY ALL CLASSES

San Francisco, Aug. 7 (US)—Public response to the offering of the 7 per cent participating stock of the Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., reflects the inherent wealth and solid status of America. Subscribers have come from people in every walk of life—equally divided between men and women. Satisfying men, among others, have been a noteworthy segment of the subscribers.

While this financing has been accomplished in a period of generation for the daring and business genius of William Randolph Hearst. Acknowledging it to be the largest stock issue of the year, the magazine Fortune states that it is "by all odds, the most dramatic piece of stock financing Wall Street has seen this year."

It is recognized that the new corporation includes some of the strongest and most profitable Hearst newspapers. During the first four years the consolidated papers have shown steady increasing net earnings $10,000,000 in 1926, $12,851,626 in 1929. The average is, born $1,017,232—or more than $1,000,000 for each publication in the group. This is more than three times—3 1/2 times, to be exact—dividend requirements on the class "A" stock.

In addition to the physical assets represented in the value of properties, plants and equipment of the papers and the diverse and fertile sources from which the corporation obtains its income, the generous fixed yield, 7 per cent, and the participation feature have attracted special attention.

Under the latter provision, class "A" stockholders share to the extent of an extra three per cent in any dividends in addition to the 7 per cent. If the properties continue to grow and prosper the likelihood for the retaining of substantially greater returns than 7 per cent increases.

Mother Raps Hospital for Long Delay

Charges that a child suffering with a broken leg and other injuries waited 15 minutes without receiving medical attention at the Cambridge Municipal Hospital yesterday because no doctor was available, were made today by police and the mother.

The child, Marilyn Watson, 3, of Elliot st., was finally transferred to Cambridge Hospital, where the fracture was set.

Officials of the Cambridge Municipal Hospital claim the delay, occasioned by three important emergency cases at the hospital when the child arrived, was but five minutes and that a physician was on the way when the mother took the girl away.

Marilyn leaped against a window screen on the second floor of her home, the screen fell out and she fell with it.

Answering an emergency call, Capt. Brennan, at Station 1, sent Patrolman Normale and Glen to the scene of the accident and the child and her parents were rushed to Cambridge Municipal Hospital.

Police report that Patrolman Normale, after waiting 15 minutes, inquired for a doctor, that none appeared and that Miss Watson signed a release slip for her daughter, who was then driven to Cambridge Hospital. The child's condition was reported as good today.

DECEASED AT HOSPITAL.

Miss G. D. Stapleton, superintendent of the Cambridge Municipal Hospital, said:

"The child did not wait 15 minutes, as reported. She only waited five. Three important cases, including a fractured skull, came in just before the Watson girl. The child was made as comfortable as possible. Five minutes after she arrived, while a physician was even then coming to attend the case, the mother took her child away."

"The mother, the chief of staff, said that she does not mind a wait of five minutes in an emergency case, as the hospital at the time was working at top speed."

"Under the circumstances, I think the wait was really justified. Of course, when one's own child is suffering, I realize that to the mother the minutes seem like hours. The child would have been attended to in a very short time."

NAB MAN WHO SHOT PETTER

John N. Manton, 27, of Russell st., Woburn, was arrested today charged with shooting Albert C. Murray of Melrose during a petting party, in a parked car in Russell st., Woburn, Tuesday night.

A revolver, which police say was the weapon used, was found in his possession.

Murray and Miss Bertha of Somerville, were sitting in the car when Manton fired.

When Manton fired, Manton was shot in the forehead and shoulder.

The prisoner was taken to the Woburn police station, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to murder. He will be arraigned later.

The Rainbow's End is within Your reach

DID you ever feel so desperate you wanted to jump out of a window? That's the wrong end of the rainbow.

All health is a burden on body, mind and friends. But Nature never fails to signal her danger. Lack of appetite, flabby flesh, loss of strength and skin trouble are warning from Nature. This is her way of pleading for help.

The basic requirement for good health is rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

Thousands of people have a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments.

It is dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

If you desire firm flesh, a glowing complexion, energy, vitality and the blessings of health you must keep your blood in good condition.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of the wonderful medicinal properties. It gives to Nature what it needs to build up your so that your system may throw off the cause.

With an increase in the red-blood cells, you will be on the right road to health. This is Nature's way of giving you power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored.

RELEASES MAN SEIZED AFTER SUIT ROBBERY

Court Frees Accused as Innocent of Having Bought Stolen Goods

"The coat and vest are mine," said William Bloom to the policeman, "and so are the pants."

They may have been at that. But Frank Coyne was stating them when arrested and today, after court proceedings, he is still wearing them.

Bloom, dealer in men's clothing in Broadway, South End, was arrested last night and mourning the robbery of 30 suits from his establishment when his eye lit on Coyne, also stroking.

"Oh, oh," said Bloom, "that's one of my suits you're wearing."

"Oh, yeah?" was the substance of Coyne's reply.

Traffic Officer John F. Kelly was called as arbitrator and Coyne was released today, after the finance commissioner, figures mean something to him.

"Where do you get 708?" he asked Bloom.

"It's there," said the merchant.

The judge looked again. "Well, I don't know," he said. "I'm satisfied the suit is stolen but I'm not satisfied the defendant knowingly received it as stolen goods. I find him not guilty."

So Coyne may, in fact, be wearing one of Bloom's suits but he is legally entitled to it. Bloom doesn't understand why.

In a letter addressed to the political committee of the W. C. T. U., Greenough said street car motors running without the referendum and paid for by the W. C. T. U., were not properly signed in conformity with the law.

He quoted the law and demanded steps be taken "forthwith" to comply with the law.

George Dixon Made $250,000 in 800 Ring Battles

"THE LITTLE CHOCOLATE" LIVED WITH HIS WIFE AND DIED IN HIS POSTER

By JACK CONWAY

They are comparing Kid Chocolate, who battles Jack Berg in New York tonight, to the marvelous George Dixon, former featherweight champion of the world.

Like John L. Sullivan, Dixon got his ring start in Boston. He fought some of his greatest battles in this city.

It has been a custom with managers of colored bantamweights and featherweights to bill them as "The New George Dixon."

For a time Chuck Suggs of New Bedford was billed as another Dixon. Before Suggs, Danny Edwards of the Coast was ballooned as another Dixon. Now it is Kid Chocolate who is nearer Dixon's ability than any of the rest.

Dixons are as scarce in the boxing game as Sullivan's. Wonder fighters like "The Little Chocolate" and the mighty John L. do not come roaring down the fistic trail every week. It sometimes takes three or four generations to bring out another of this caliber of ring lungs.

Dixon was the first man to be generally recognized as featherweight champion of the world. Dixon also proved that a Negro by conducting himself properly could win the support of the boxing world.

In one of my recent articles in connection with the Sullivan-Corbett fight at New Orleans, I pointed out the fact that Dixon was the first Negro permitted to fight for the heavyweight title contest. The night before to the Sullivan-Corbett bout "The Little Chocolate" had knocked out Jack Sully in a bout which was advertised as for the featherweight champion of the world.

O'Rourke managed Dixon when Dixon entered the arena he was greeted by a round of applause.

Tom O'Rourke managed Dixon. Tom was also pilot of Joe Walcott, who started to train him in the time Dixon was featherweight champion of the world.

Dixon is credited with engaging in 800 bouts, which makes his record one of the greatest in the history of the ring.

Dixon took part in many of these bouts during his 12 years in the featherweight title. Taking a pace from the Irish John L., Dixon toured the country, agreeing to meet all comers. He consented to fight for $20 to any man he was unable to knock out in four rounds.

The featherweight champion, never reaching more than 125 pounds, often gave away 10 to 15 pounds to his opponent. Despite this weight handicap, he usually won by a knockout.

Tom O'Rourke, who usually went along with Dixon during this famous tour, Walcott was then a waterweight, but even then he proved he was worthy of the name "Giant Killer" who was attached to him.

Walcott was little known at the time, but was used by O'Rourke to win care of points from the Irish lionhearted and lumberjack who sought a crack at Dixon's chin.

During a four round fight, a burly waterweight presented himself at the entrance of the theater where Dixon was showing "I want to fight Kid Chocolate," said the lumberjack.

"How much do you want?" asked O'Rourke at the man's proffer.

"Two hundred," was the curt reply.

"Ever fight before?" demanded Tom as he spared for time. "You've never boxed in the ring?"

"But you've never boxed in the ring?" asked the man who had thought of what might happen if the giant crashed his ponderous fist to Dixon's chin.

"No," chirped the lumberjack, "but I'm on my way now."

"We have a young fellow by the name of Walcott in our show," said O'Rourke easily. "He can hit you any way and if you make good I'll let you go. I'll give you $300 in a bout with my champion."

"That night Walcott and the lumberjack went into action before a crowded house.

Walcott scores E. O.

The lumberjack rushed at the "Giant Killer," but he stepped out of the way of the first punch. Suddenly Walcott stepped in while the lumberjack was in the air and crashed his famous right fist to the chin of the lumberjack.

When the lumberjack came to in the dressing room an hour later, he was rather dazed.

"That night Walcott and the lumberjack went into action before a crowded house.

Chapman 1 Up on Ward in N. E. Amateur Golf Final

Time and again Ward drove five and six footers for halves, which would have been less than yesterday when he was well off form on the putting surface.

Ward on Edge of Green With Drive

Although Ward was on the edge of the first green with his drive and Chapman was in the trap to his left of the green, they both needed four to get down, for a birdie.

Pulled second shot on the second hole got the mix trouble, but Chapman recovered better than Ward and won the hole.

Chapman was stymied by the big oak tree guarding the left of the second green with Ward on the green, the practice tee hole. Chapman played on, but Ward attacked and he hit a brick and failed to get down, losing to Chapman's five.

Chapman's second run over the hole was on the fourth, which was a nice run and won the hole when Chapman missed a second shot into the trap from beyond the green.

A fly was responsible for a hole in the short fourth, which was on the trap, with Chapman and Ward on the trap, but Chapman appeared to be set for a three, but Ward's ball stopped in his line and he was not able to get down, ever fought in the annuals of New England amateur championships.

Jackie Berg Picked to Defeat Kid Chocolate Tonight

LAST MINUTE SHIFT IN ODDS
FAVORS JUNIOR WELTER
CHAMPION TO WIN

New York, Aug. 7 (US)—Jackie Kid Berg, and Elgin Kid Chocolate meet tonight at the Polo Grounds in a bout that is scheduled for 10 rounds.

They are meeting for nothing in particular, although Berg is the undisputed holder of the world's junior welterweight championship. Junior championships were rubbed off the records in the state immediately after Tod Morgan did whatever he did for. However, it promises to be a jolly good scrap, between two tremendously popular and thoroughly honest young men, and the customers have been taking a mild interest during the past two days. It looked like a 200,000 show on Monday, whereas today there was basis for Frank Bruna's enthusiastic prediction of a $150,000 gate. Weather forecasts call for show tonight, in which event the show will be starry tomorrow night. If it rains Friday, it will probably be postponed to next Thursday night.

Great Catch Saves Newton From Loss

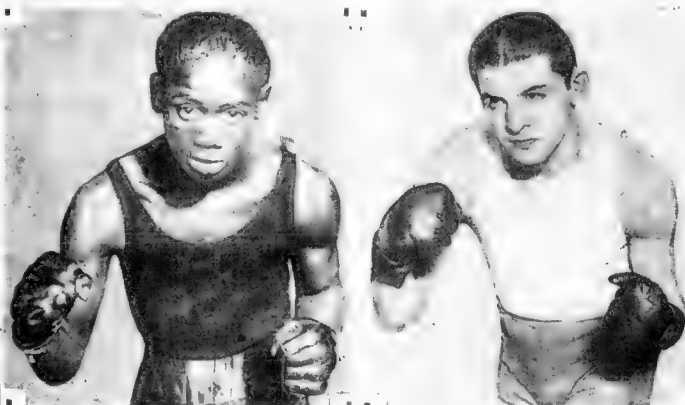

Both principals arrived from their training camps yesterday, and were topped on the scales for unofficial observers and gunsmen. In making 134½ pounds when the official examination takes place at the Polo Grounds today. Odds on the mark, which have favored Chocolate by as much as 5 to 1, promptly inspired the other way, and at last reports Berg was the choice at 5 to 1. Well-informed individuals believe he will be 5 to 2 at the ring side.

Chocolate has engaged in 125 matches without a defeat, but there are at least two decisions in his his record book that he did not deserve. One is Fidel La Barba, and the other is Al Singer. La Barba held him to a draw, at least, and Singer clearly defeated him. Both of these matches were refereed by Louis Magnolia.

Berg has lost two decisions in this country, both to Billy P. Trolle. One was by a knockout. But this time Berg is a greatly improved and much stronger fighter than the Berg who lost to Trolle. Berg will enter the ring tonight at least 10 pounds heavier than Chocolate. The clever Cuban is expected to weigh not more than 125 pounds, his natural fighting weight. Berg will weigh at least 135½ pounds going into the ring. That is a lot of weight for a featherweight to donate to any lightweight, much less to such a strong, tireless performer as Berg.

Sox Open Long Home Stay With Detroit Tomorrow

By BILL CONNELL

Heinie Wagner and his Red Sox return to Boston tomorrow, opening their home stay against Detroit. The Hub Sox face the Tigers, St. Louis, Cleveland and Chicago in that order and wind up their home stay when they entertain the Athletics, the last two days of August.

The Red Sox spend the final moments of the season away from home and if they are to get out of the cellar for the year, they will need to win at least one game during the home stay. That would give them a chance to stay out of the bottom rung of the league and if possible they could play well in their final road game.

The Sox are traveling to Chicago today for a series with the Cubs, starting tomorrow. A week or two back the Tribe was the favorite to win the pennant, and the team was in a hitting slump. During the week with the Cubs, though, matters took a good turn and right now it seems as if the Sox may finish the season with a winning record.

It is the hope of the Sox that they will win at least one game during the home stay, for a win is a big help in the time being the past season.

Cunningham Seems to Have Hit Stride

Steve Cunningham, one of the early season hopes of the Sox, was today was ready to go to the ring completely in shape. He was used mainly in a relief role, and was not counted on at all as a starting pitcher.

Cunningham has come into winning form now and should be able to make a real start on the Sox. Steve, who was 1 at a time in the game, was 1 at a time in the game.

Andy Callahan Is Easy Winner

Andy Callahan of Lawrence was today the favorite over Jimmy King of Cleveland in a 10-round bout which featured the crowd at the Polo Grounds, Lawrence tonight.

LITTLE STORIES OF FAST SUCCESSES

(NUMBER EIGHT)

ALICE WHITE

She pounded pavements . . . pounded studio-doors . . . pounded the keys of a battered typewriter. Then a keen-eyed director spotted Alice . . . and in a few short years a new White star rose in Hollywood's heavens.

Luck? . . . Luck nothing! Alice White was endowed by Nature with a special charm to thrill the millions.

OLD GOLD, too, is one of Nature's favorites. Endowed with mellower, sweeter tobaccos. It gave to millions a brand new taste-thrill, without a trace of throat-irritation. That's why OLD GOLD broke into the "Big-4" in less than a year, why today it's the country's fastest growing cigarette.

When Nature backs an Alice White or an OLD GOLD, success comes . . . and comes on the run.

IN SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, OLD GOLD APPEARED FEB. 1927. JUST THREE MONTHS LATER IT WAS ONE OF THE NORTHWEST'S FOUR LEADING CIGARETTES.
